Font Style Practice

Paul V. Miller

June 2025

1   Introduction

If we want to underline a word or sentence, you can use the command underline. On the other hand, we can we might want to use boldface, which can be done by invoking command textbf. A third face change is italic, which you do textit for italics.

You can also use emph for italics, but not in all document packages. textit is more universal, according to Paulo.